BOOK SYSTEMS RELOCATES TO A BIGGER AND BETTER FACILITY TO ACCOMMODATE GROWTH

"We're rapidly growing as a company and had to expand our facilities to accommodate our growth. Our previous building didn't allow for the necessary expansion, so we selected a new facility that would not only allow for the growth, but is more centrally located and convenient for our customers. We now have hotel accommodations within walking distance, which is perfect for our customers that attend our In-house Training classes," said Gaines Gravlee, Book Systems' Chief Operating Officer.

"Our sales department has also grown. We've recently hired an Outside Sales Manager, Alan Dillard, who has 20 years experience in the Library Automation Industry, composed a newly created Outside Sales Team. These individuals are all highly motivated and experienced specialists that have been in the Library Automation Industry with several years of experience as well," said Dewayne Jeter, Book Systems' Inside Sales Manager.
