Dublin City Schools in Georgia implement Booktracks

Five schools moved from pen and paper to tracking their textbooks in Booktracks. The improvements in circulating and managing the textbooks is great.

Dublin has three elementary schools that serve grades K-5. Each one has a unique academic theme that is used to get students involved in project based learning. All three schools teach the same Georgia Performance Standards, but the projects students do to use what they learn varies dependent on the school theme. Susie Dasher Elementary is a Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math school. Saxon Heights Elementary is a Talented, Arts, and Gifted school. Hillcrest Elementary is a Leadership, Environmental Awareness, and Public Service school. Moving to Booktracks was just another step in improving the service Dublin is offering their teachers and students.
